Player Interviews

All player interviews are coordinated through the University of Iowa Sports Information office. You can contact Chris Brewer at 319-335-9411 to set up interview times that will not interfere with the student-athlete's academic or practice schedules. The Hawkeyes practice daily from 11:30 a.m. - 2:30 p.m. at Carver-Hawkeye Arena.

University of Iowa Athletic Department Mission Statement

The mission of the Department of Athletics is to provide the administrative and coaching support, facilities, resources, and equipment necessary for student athletes to graduate from The University of Iowa while participating in broad based championship caliber athletic competition. The overall well-being of the participant and integrity of the program will be paramount in all that we do.

CARVER-HAWKEYE ARENA

IOWA VOLLEYBALL

The home of the Hawkeye volleyball team is Carver-Hawkeye Arena. One of the finest facilities in the Midwest, it is one of the largest university-owned facilities in the nation.

Opened in January 1983, the $18-million arena is the site for all University of Iowa home volleyball, wrestling and basketball contests, as well as various gymnastic events. The spacious arena has also played host to numerous Big Ten and NCAA championship events.

When the Hawkeye volleyball team takes the court, Carver-Hawkeye Arena has a volleyball-specific setup that is used in all home games. The court is moved to an east-west setup on the North end of the arena, with the south end of the court draped off. The new setup gives the arena a more intimate feel - not to mention concentrates all the rabid Hawkeye fans on one end.

In 2009, fans flocked to Carver-Hawkeye Arena in record numbers. The Hawkeyes ranked 23rd in national attendance, averaging a program-record 1,632 fans in 13 home contest.

Speaking of fans, the faithful Hawkeye followers have a chance to get an up close and personal look at all the volleyball action by sitting in floor seats. The setup allows fans to sit just a few feet off the court on both ends and along the north sideline.

Carver-Hawkeye Arena recently had new scoreboards installed to compliment its modern lighting and sound systems that help make Iowa volleyball a great event. Carver-Hawkeye Arena also has a large press row with multiple phone lines and high speed internet connections, which makes covering the Hawkeyes a pleasure for the many members of the print and electronic media.

A unique structure in itself, Carver-Hawkeye Arena became even more distinguished with the installation of a parquet-style playing court in July 1988. The arena has been host to various national competitions including four NCAA wrestling championships (1986, 1991, 1995 and 2001) and the 2000 NCAA Men's Gymnastics Championships.

Located on the western edge of the UI campus, Carver-Hawkeye is the centerpiece for a superlative athletics complex. Within walking distance are Duane Banks Field, the UI Field House, Recreation Building, Indoor Practice Facility, Grant Field, Finkbine Golf Course, Iowa Softball Complex, Hayden Fry Football Complex and Cretzmeyer Track and Field, as well as Kinnick Stadium, the 70,585-seat home for the Hawkeye football team.

Athletic Training & Sports Medicine

Continuing to set the standard in athletic training and sports medicine service, The University of Iowa provides the student-athlete with exemplary medical care. Athletic Training Services is the largest component of the University of Iowa Sports Medicine program. UI Sports Medicine is a multidisciplinary healthcare team housed within the UI Sports Medicine Center, as part of University Hospitals & Clinics (UIHC), striving to provide exemplary everyday care for all student-athletes. The team consists of Athletic Training, Orthopaedics, Primary Care, Physician Assistants, Radiology, Physical Therapy, and Nursing. In addition, Athletic Training Services connect student-athletes to UIHC resources and specialty areas. Iowa's staff of 12 full-time licensed athletic trainers and six graduate assistant licensed athletic trainers provide health care services within four athletic training rooms and other ancillary facilities, involving injury rehabilitation and prevention programs among other health care services. When injuries and illness occur Iowa's athletic trainers provide treatment and rehabilitation programs to facilitate appropriate return to participation.

Services from the UIHC, among the world's largest university-owned teaching hospitals, support the efforts of the athletic trainers and other specialty sports medicine staff. Located next to Kinnick Stadium, the hospital offers a cutting-edge environment where staff physicians, sports medicine fellows, sports physical therapists, and athletic trainers care for student-athletes and produce successful outcomes. Dedicated research and education result in outstanding care. In October 2009, the Institute for Orthopaedics, Sports Medicine and Rehabilitation (IOSMR) opened to further enhance the care for student athletes. This new facility houses the UI Sports Medicine Center.

Athletic trainers form a team with orthopaedic and primary care physicians for every Hawkeye sport. Many of the physicians are fellowship trained in their specialty area and lecture locally, nationally, and around the world. In addition, each athlete has access to orthodontists, nutritionists, psychologists, and specialty physicians at the UIHC. Priority access to see physicians and other health care professionals provides expertise for comprehensive health care that returns the student-athlete to practice and competition promptly and safely.

The Carver-Hawkeye Athletic Training Room has excellent facilities to conduct evaluations, treatments, and rehabilitation for the student-athlete.

The Hawkeye Strength Training Program

The University of Iowa Strength and Conditioning Department is committed to providing the ultimate training experience for each Hawkeye student-athlete. Our focus is the development of the complete student-athlete through the use of proven scientific methods for reducing the risk of injury, as well as maximizing each student-athlete's athletic potential. Equally as important, our staff will foster a culture of relationship building in which we will seek to enhance the intangible character traits required for each Hawkeye to reach his or her championship potential on and off the playing stage.

Strength & Conditioning Philosophy

The philosophy of this program consists of two components. The first is to continually develop a scientifically sound program that will maximize strength, power and explosiveness in order to allow the athlete to get the utmost out of their genetic potential, and to reduce the chance of injury. This will primarily be accomplished through the use of ground based free weight exercises and the progressive incorporation of functional movements and plyometrics. The second is to establish a culture which will develop the discipline, character and mental toughness within each student-athlete and team as a whole so that they are able to make sacrifices in their training, leave their comfort zone and develop a Championship ATTITUDE. This will encourage them to make the most out of every situation and opportunity given to them in athletics and academics, so that they might know what it is to be fully committed to something. When these two converge, they are not only able to reach their full potential; they become champions on and off the playing field.

The Carver-Hawkeye Arena weight room gives student-athletes a top-notch place to train.

IOWA VOLLEYBALL

The Board of Regents, State of Iowa approved the schematic design, project description, budget, and financing plan for a $47 million addition and revitalization of the University of Iowa's award-winning Carver-Hawkeye Arena.

The Carver-Hawkeye Arena – Addition and Renovation Project will include the construction of a practice facility immediately north of the Arena for use by the UI's men's basketball, women's basketball and volleyball programs; renovation of the practice, fitness and weight-training facilities utilized by the UI's wrestling program; renovation and expansion of other fitness and weight-training space in the Arena utilized by the majority of Iowa's 24 sports teams; the renovation and expansion of locker rooms in the facility; and the renovation of existing and the creation of new office, meeting, and storage space for use by administrative and coaching staff of the UI Athletics Department.

The addition of the practice facility will eliminate the need to have student-athletes in the sports of men's basketball, women's basketball and volleyball practice and train at unusual or irregular times of day or at times which are typically reserved for classes. The flexibility created by the practice space will also positively impact the potential for use of the arena for other University and community-related events such as concerts.

The revitalization of the arena will also extend into spaces used by the general public on game days and nights, including renovation of select concessions and restroom facilities, and the creation of hospitality and meeting spaces combined with club facilities for fans of the Hawkeyes who choose to participate in a variety of premium seating options similar to that which are available in the Paul W. Brechler Press Box at historic Kinnick Stadium.

Finally, the project will also upgrade the fire alarm, elevator and mechanical systems of the award-winning facility. As of June 2010, the renovation was 35-percent complete. The UI estimates completion of the full project in the fall of 2011.

"Today, more than 25 years after its construction, Carver-Hawkeye Arena remains a great facility for spectators. However, in order to remain competitive, some of the public spaces and many of the training and competition spaces need significant updating and enhancement. I greatly appreciate the Board's recognition of our needs and its confidence in our plan to address them," said Gary Barta, the UI's director of athletics.

"I am so grateful fans of the Hawkeyes recognize our need to be competitive and have been as supportive of this project today as they were when they were asked to support the original construction of Carver-Hawkeye Arena and, more recently, the renovation of Kinnick Stadium."

The Board also approved the financing plan submitted by the UI for the project. The plan was similar to that which was created for the renovation of historic Kinnick Stadium. It includes revenue generated from fund-raising specifically related to the project and bonding secured by revenues specifically related to the project.

IOWA VOLLEYBALL

The UI Athletics Department is currently working with the UI Foundation on a capital gift campaign that has a goal of generating $20 million in support of the project. The UI has already received more than $18 Million in support of the project, including an initial multi-million dollar contribution from Dale and Marilyn Howard of Iowa Falls.

Funding for the project has allowed the UI Athletics Department to establish courtside and club seat programs comparable to the indoor and outdoor club seat program currently in operation inside the Paul W. Brechler Press Box at historic Kinnick Stadium. The premium seating options will involve approximately 500 seats and has already proven popular with Hawkeye fans.

The UI Athletics Department has also implemented a priority seating program for the Arena similar to the program in place for grandstand seats at historic Kinnick Stadium. The Arena program currently calls for less than one-third (less than 4,500) of the 15,000 seats in the facility to be subject to a priority seat contribution.

"When Carver was built more than 25 years ago, Hawkeye fans were incredibly generous and those who made a contribution to the project were provided access to the best seats. When we renovated Kinnick Stadium, those who were most generous were provided the opportunity to lease premium seating opportunities in the new press box," Barta said.

"We have developed a funding model that is used across the country for virtually every project like this and particularly when the athletics department involved is asked to be 100-percent self-supporting. We will need help from all fans of the Hawkeyes and the response has already been terrific. With that said, fans sitting in two-thirds of the Arena will not be required to make a contribution or participate in the priority seating program."

Barta said the impact of this project will be felt across the spectrum of sports offered by the UI, by thousands of current and future student-athletes, and by hundreds of thousands of fans who will attend events in the Arena for many years to come.

"To say that our staff and coaches are excited or that our student-athletes are excited would be a tremendous understatement. We are making an important investment in one of the landmark buildings on our campus and the programs that it houses," he said.

"Clearly this project is a strong endorsement of the University of Iowa's commitment to providing its student-athletes the very best opportunity to achieve both academically and athletically. The challenges we currently face with respect to scheduling team practices and workouts won't be an issue when this project is complete - and that's a huge step forward made on behalf of our student-athletes."

- Head Coach Sharon Dingman

IOWA VOLLEYBALL

Since its inception in 1979, Athletics Student Services has evolved from a two-person, academic support service to a broad-based, nationally prominent student support services operation. Its purpose is to offer academic and personal support services that will assist student-athletes in making timely progress toward their degrees while preparing to become tomorrow's leaders. Athletics Student Services focuses on four important areas - academic counseling and monitoring, educational and support programs, retention programs and compliance education and services - when working with student-athletes. Following are descriptions of some of the programs, services and opportunities available in those areas.

Gerdin Athletics Learning Center

The $4.6 million Russell A. and Ann Gerdin Athletics Learning Center opened in August of 2003 and gives all Iowa student-athletes a state of the art facility to support their educational goals. The Athletics Learning Center is a 20,000 square foot facility which provides a computer lab, study lounges, seminar and meeting places for all Hawkeye student-athletes. The Learning Center features an auditorium that converts into two classrooms, separate study rooms for under and upper-class student-athletes with 28 study carrels, a computer lab, tutorial rooms, the book loan repository, offices for Iowa's Student Services staff and a display area to recognize the academic and athletic accomplishments of Iowa's student-athletes.

Academic Counseling & Monitoring

Athletics coordinators work closely with student-athletes and their university-assigned advisors from the time they arrive on campus until the time they leave the University. Along with focusing on academic planning matters such as goal-setting, plans of study, choosing majors and degree requirements, athletics coordinators also help student-athletes understand NCAA, Big Ten and University academic policies. They also solicit feedback from instructors on academic progress made by student-athletes.

The $4.6 million Russell A. and Ann Gerdin Athletics Learning Center opened in August of 2003 and gives all Iowa student-athletes a state of the art facility to support their educational goals.

Career Guidance & Development

Planning a meaningful career and a fulfilling life is an ongoing process of expanding and narrowing choices, beginning when student-athletes arrive on campus and continuing throughout their college career and lifetime. The professional staff works with other career development professionals on campus to offer individual consultation, career development seminars, workshops, referrals to other campus offices and special events like the Senior Recognition Banquet for graduating student-athletes.

Educational Programs

A full menu of educational programs are offered to student-athletes to ensure their academic success and personal development as they grow from Today's Hawkeyes to Tomorrow's Leaders. Through collaboration with other University of Iowa student services offices, and in partnership with the NCAA CHAMPS/Life Skills Program, programs address such quality of life issues as alcohol safety, healthy lifestyles, tolerance and respect, career development, professional conduct and leadership development.

Retention

Through the retention program student-athletes, who may need tailored academic assistance and structure, are identified and receive individualized learning plans to help them succeed. Such plans may include daily and weekly planning sessions with athletics coordinators and retention staff, tutoring, study groups, mainstreaming into on-campus services like the writing center, math labs and services for students with learning disabilities.

Transition Seminar

All new student-athletes attend an eight-week transition seminar during the fall semester that is geared toward helping them make the transition from high school to college successfully. Seminar topics include time management skills, learning and study strategies, the culture and rules of the university and Division I Big Ten intercollegiate athletics, and personal leadership and life skills concerning alcohol safety, healthy relationships and intimacy, diversity and inclusion, tolerance, values and character.

IOWA VOLLEYBALL

Located near the Hillcrest, Slater, Quadrangle and Reinow residence halls, the Russell A. and Ann Gerdin Athletics Learning Center is easily accessible to Hawkeye student-athletes. Some of the facility's features include a large computer lab, areas for group and independent study, and meeting rooms.

Minority Enrichment Program

This program offers a culturally supportive environment in which minority student-athletes develop friendships and a support network in the university. A core focus group of students and staff coordinate programs such as guest speakers, holiday celebrations, community service activities with the local neighborhood centers, events with Cultural Centers and networking with minority faculty, staff, professional and business leaders.

Leadership Development through Iowa SAAC

Through the Iowa SAAC (Student-Athlete Advisory Committee), student-athlete representatives selected by their coaches and teammates represent the interests and concerns of their teams to Athletics Administrators. They meet regularly to plan community service, personal development, career education and social programs advised and supported by Athletics Student Services staff. They are consulted about emerging department policies and NCAA proposed legislation. SAAC representatives learn about and participate in the athletics governance structure by serving on department advisory committees.

Tutoring

Tutoring is available free of charge to all student-athletes. Tutors, who are graduate and professional students, current and former teachers, help with course content as well as study strategies and are available in virtually all general education program subjects.

Compliance Education and Services

Athletics Student Services administers a comprehensive compliance program to ensure that all staff and student-athletes act in accordance with NCAA, Big Ten Conference and University of Iowa regulations. Staff members oversee and assist with the recruiting of prospective student-athletes. They monitor the continuing eligibility of student-athletes. They oversee and administer student-athlete financial aid. They conduct rules education programs for coaches, staff, student-athletes and boosters. They monitor staff and student-athlete behavior to ensure conformity with the NCAA, Big Ten Conference, University of Iowa and Athletic Department policies and rules.

Compare the Numbers
Iowa's student-athletes have outperformed the University's entire student population each year since the NCAA started requiring a report of student-athlete graduation rates.

Sharon Dingman Head Coach Third Season Northern Michigan/1984

Sharon Dingman was named the eighth coach in the history of University of Iowa volleyball March 21, 2008. In two seasons at the helm of the volleyball program, she has led the Hawkeyes to historical heights.

In 2009, Dingman helped Iowa match the best start in program history by guiding the Hawkeyes to a 6-0 record.

Iowa eventually became the first team in school history to start the season 7-0 on the road. The Hawkeyes captured five conference wins in 2009, raising Dingman's two-year Big Ten win total to 11, the highest two-year stretch for an Iowa volleyball team since 2000-01.

Iowa set season attendance records in each of Dingman's two years as head coach, including averaging a school-record 1,632 fans in 2009, the 23rd highest total in the country. Since 2008, the Hawkeyes have experienced eight of the school's top 10 all-time attendance figures. On November 11, 2009, the Hawkeye topped the 3,000 mark for the first time in program history when 3,102 fans witnessed Iowa host top-ranked Penn State.

In her first season at the helm, Dingman led the Hawkeyes to their most successful campaign in eight years. Iowa's 14 wins in 2008 were tied for the most since 2000, and its six conference victories are the most since 2000. Dingman guided the Hawkeyes to a ninth place finish in the competitive Big Ten Conference, which was the highest finish for a Hawkeye squad since 2000.

Dingman and the Hawkeyes set or snapped many streaks in a successful first season. Iowa won seven-straight matches, tying the fourth-longest winning streak in school history. The Hawkeyes also swept every opponent during the winning streak and won 15-straight sets. That was the longest set-winning streak since 1990. Iowa opened the conference season with wins over No. 18 Wisconsin and Northwestern, marking only the fifth time in school history that a Hawkeye team started 2-0 in Big Ten play. The Hawkeyes also had a winning record inside Carver-Hawkeye Arena for the first time since 1998.

The Hawkeyes also snapped conference losing streaks in Dingman's first season. Iowa defeated Ohio State for the first time in 39 tries, dating back to 1988. That win also broke an 18-match losing skid on the road in Big Ten play. Iowa's upset win over No. 18 Wisconsin snapped a 26-match losing streak against the Badgers, which went back to 1994.

Dingman set a personal milestone at Northwestern Nov. 14, 2008, when she recorded her 350th career win in Iowa's five-set victory. Her career record stands at 350-230 in 18 seasons as a head coach.

Dingman arrived at Iowa after serving as head coach at Illinois State from 2000-07, where she compiled a 147-98 record. In 2007, Dingman led the Redbirds to their first at-large berth in the NCAA Tournament since 1997 after reaching the championship match of the Missouri Valley Conference Tournament and finished with a 21-12 overall record.

Illinois State produced winning seasons in seven of the eight seasons under Dingman and never finished lower than fifth in the Missouri Valley Conference. The Redbirds also reached at least the semifinals of the Missouri Valley Conference Tournament in six of her eight seasons. Dingman produced 21 all-Missouri Valley Conference selections, including Player of the Year, Libero of the Year and two Freshman of the Year honorees. Two players also garnered all-district and all-region honors.

In her first season at Illinois State, Dingman guided the Redbirds to a 20-9 record, including a 15-3 mark in the Missouri Valley Conference. Illinois State finished second in the Missouri Valley and also reached the championship match of the conference tournament, narrowly missing an automatic NCAA Tournament bid after dropping a tough match to nationally-ranked Northern Iowa.

Dingman led Illinois State to a record-setting season in 2004. She guided the team to 22 wins, which was the most since 1998 and broke a school record with 18-consecutive home wins. Two Illinois State players were named first team all-conference and one was an honorable mention AVCA all-District pick.

Dingman helped create a strong home court advantage at Illinois State. Five of the top 20 crowds in Missouri Valley Conference history occurred at Redbird Arena under Dingman, including a league-record 5,641 fans in a match against nationally-ranked Stanford in 2002.

Redbird teams under Dingman were also strong in the classroom. Eleven players were named to the league's scholar-athlete squad in her eight seasons and in 2004, four volleyball student-athletes earned perfect 4.0 grade-point-averages and the team recorded a 3.32 GPA. In 2005, her volleyball team won the academic award for the highest GPA in the athletic department.

Dingman started her head coaching career in 1991 at Auburn, where she led the Tigers to a 22-13 record in her only season at the helm. Her 1991 squad became the first Auburn volleyball team to receive votes in the national poll and Auburn's fourth place finish in the SEC that season marked the highest finish ever for Auburn at the time. Two student-athletes earned all-SEC honors, including Jenifer Kleyn, who was named the SEC Scholar-Athlete of the Year and was an NCAA post-graduate scholarship recipient who carried a 4.0 GPA.

She then moved to Butler in 1992, where she served as head coach for eight seasons. Dingman led the Bulldogs to four 20-win seasons and three postseason tournaments, including an appearance in the NCAA Tournament in 1997 after capturing the Midwestern Collegiate Conference title. She was named MCC Coach of the Year in 1997 after compiling a 28-7 record. Dingman guided ed three student-athletes to MCC Player of the Year honors, seven to all-region accolades and five to "Top 100 Student" honors at Butler.

Prior to becoming a head coach, Dingman spent seven seasons as an assistant coach at three Division I programs. After one season at Northern Michigan (1984), she assisted at Texas Tech for three seasons (1985-87). Dingman then spent three seasons at Kentucky (1988-90) and helped the Wildcats to an SEC Championship in 1988 along with three-straight regional finals appearances in the NCAA Tournament.

Dingman has become one of the most respected volleyball coaches in the nation for her work off the court. She was a member of the American Volleyball Coaches Association Board of Directors for seven years and has actively served on many other sport-related committees. She volunteered to support the Special Olympics, the Council of Collegiate Women Athletics Administrators and the Citizens for Sports Equity. She was named an Outstanding Young Women of America in 1989 and served as a volunteer at the 1996 Olympic Games in Atlanta.

Her playing career included back-to-back Big Ten championships at Purdue (1979-80) before transferring to Northern Michigan, where she served as team captain and most valuable player. She earned her bachelor's degree in health sciences from Northern Michigan in 1984 and attended graduate school at Kentucky (1988-90), completing coursework towards her master's degree in health education.

Along with her career in volleyball, Dingman earned a gold medal in team handball at the 1987 U.S. Olympic Festival and was invited to train with the U.S. national handball team in 1987. She also has completed five marathons.

Dingman is a Monticello, IN, native where she has been inducted into the Twin Lakes High School Hall of Fame.

Jason Allen Assistant Coach Third Season Oklahoma Baptist/2000

Jason Allen is in his third season as an assistant coach at Iowa. Allen was promoted to the team's recruiting coordinator following the 2008 season.

In Allen's second year, he helped the Hawkeyes match the program's best start in school history, becoming just the third Hawkeye team to start the season 6-0. Iowa fought its way to five conference wins, raising the two-year total since Allen arrived on campus to 11 Big Ten victories, the best two-year stretch since 2000-01.

In his first season at Iowa, Allen helped the Hawkeyes to 14 wins, which ties the most for an Iowa team since 2000. The Hawkeyes also won six Big Ten matches, the most for an Iowa squad in eight seasons.

In 2010, Allen served as the head coach of the Iowa High Performance Junior National team that advanced to compete in the USAV High Performance National Championships in the Wisconsin Dells.

Allen spent the 2007 season as the 16U Head Coach for the Texas Tornados club program, which is considered one of the top volleyball clubs in the nation. Allen led the current team to a No. 17 national ranking and coached 10 players who received Division I scholarships. Four of Allen's players were also named to the top 120 players in the country list by numerous publications. Allen led his team to a first place finish at the 16 Open Northeast Qualifier. He also served as the recruiting director and webmaster.

Prior to his time with the Texas Tornados, Allen served as an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at Sam Houston State University (2004-07). Allen helped lead Sam Houston State to a second place finish in the Southland Conference (2005) and coached a total of eight student-athletes to all-conference honors. Allen was also responsible for video scouting, recruit evaluating and summer camps.

Allen was an assistant coach for the Lone Star Youth High Performance Teams in both Austin and Houston, TX from 2005-06. In 2005, his team finished fifth at the USA High Performance Championships and in 2006, the team finished 10th.

Allen began his collegiate coaching career at the Division II level, where he was a graduate assistant at Southwest Minnesota State. In his one season, Southwest Minnesota State was crowned co-champions of the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference and appeared in the NCAA Division II National Tournament. He also helped coach five all-conference and two all-region student-athletes.

Allen moved on to North Dakota State University, where he was an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator (2002-04). North Dakota State won a share of the North Central Conference title in 2003 and qualified for the NCAA Division II National Tournament twice, including a "Sweet 16" appearance in 2003. Allen helped lead four student-athletes to all-region honors and two to all-America honors in 2003. He also recruited and signed the North Central Region Freshman of the Year in 2003.

Allen played one season at Tomball College in Tomball, TX, before transferring to Oklahoma Baptist University. Allen helped Tomball to a ninth place finish at the NIRSA Collegiate Volleyball Championships and served as a player/coach for the Oklahoma Baptist club team. Allen was a member of three state tournament club teams and was named to the all-tournament team twice. He was also a member of the International Sports Federation volleyball team for two summers traveling throughout North Africa, playing various national teams and hosting clinics for junior national teams.

Allen graduated from Oklahoma Baptist (2000) with a degree in interdisciplinary studies with an emphasis in communications, business administration and psychology. He worked towards his Masters of Education in wellness and human performance at Southwest Minnesota State University. Allen also completed hours towards his Masters of Exercise Science in sport pedagogy at North Dakota State University.

Ben Boldt Assistant Coach Second Season Nebraska/2005

Ben Boldt is in his second season as an assistant coach at Iowa. In the summer of 2010, Boldt served as an assistant coach for USA Volleyball.

In his first season with the Hawkeyes, Boldt helped lead the team to six straight wins to start the season, a mark that matched the best program start in school history. He was instrumental in leading a Hawkeye defense that ranked third in the Big Ten in digs per game. Boldt also coached first-year libero Christina Meister, who ranked second in the conference in digs per game and became Iowa's first Big Ten Player of the Week since 2006.

Boldt, a native of Hickman, NE, comes to Iowa after serving two years as an assistant coach at Alabama. In his first season, Boldt helped the Crimson Tide to its third-straight NCAA Tournament berth, and its third overall NCAA Tournament appearance in school history. Boldt also coached middle blocker Crystal Hudson to all-America honors, and helped bring in Alabama's first top 30 recruiting class.

Boldt was honored by the American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) in the spring of 2009 when he was given the "Thirty Under 30 Award." The "Thirty Under 30 Award" was established so the volleyball community could spotlight up-and-coming professionals in the sport at all levels of the game, including high school and all NCAA Divisions.

Boldt served as a staff assistant for five seasons at the University of Nebraska while pursuing his degree, prior to joining the Alabama staff. While at Nebraska, Boldt was a part of one of the most successful programs in NCAA history. Nebraska won five Big 12 championships and advanced to the National Semifinals three times. In his final season at Nebraska, the Cornhuskers finished 33-1 and were crowned NCAA champions after knocking off Stanford in the title game.

While at Nebraska, Boldt served as a coach for USA Volleyball at numerous levels. He was a USA Youth National Team coach in 2005-06, and was also a part of the A2 team in 2004.

Boldt also has experience coaching at the club level. He has served as head coach for the Iowa Rockets club for the past two years. He was also a head coach for both the Challenger Volleyball Club from 2000-04 and the Nebraska Juniors from 2005-06.

Boldt is married to current Hawkeye Director of Volleyball Operations Angie Boldt.

Angie Boldt
Director of Operations
Third Season
Nebraska/2006

Angie Boldt is in her third season as Director of Volleyball Operations at the University of Iowa.

Her responsibilities include team travel logistics and managing day-to-day operations within the volleyball program. She also helps coordinate home matches, tournaments, alumni events, team receptions and banquets.

Boldt comes to Iowa after serving as a graduate assistant with volleyball operations at the University of Alabama from 2006-08. She helped coordinate team travel, home matches and tournaments, team receptions and banquets and both youth development and coaches clinics. Boldt also helped oversee day-to-day operations for the volleyball office, including scheduling, recruiting and budget issues.

Prior to her stint at Alabama, Boldt was a student worker for volleyball operations at the University of Nebraska from 2003-06. During her time, the Cornhuskers were a perennial top-five program and won the 2006 NCAA national championship.

Boldt has five years of coaching experience at the club level. She served as both an assistant and co-head coach for the South Central Volleyball Club in St. Paul, NE, from 2003-06. Boldt also taught private lessons at the Nebraska Volleyball Academy in Lincoln, NE, in 2006 and also served as both an assistant and co-head coach for the Club Crimson Volleyball Club in Tuscaloosa, AL. She currently serves as a coach for the Iowa Rockets Volleyball Club, based in eastern Iowa.

The St. Paul, NE, native graduated from Nebraska in 2006 with a degree in education and human sciences, with endorsements in natural sciences and coaching. She received her masters in general studies in human environmental sciences, with an emphasis in sport management, from Alabama in the spring of 2008.

Boldt is married to current Hawkeye assistant coach Ben Boldt.

IOWA VOLLEYBALL

The players have changed and the results have improved, yet one thing ironically remains the same heading into the third year of the Sharon Dingman era, consistency. Iowa volleyball's head coach preached it the moment she arrived on campus in 2008. She stressed it again throughout year two. And in 2010, she says the players have begun to understand the broad meaning of her message.

In order for Dingman's Hawkeyes to navigate north through the Big Ten standings, the players had to consistently improve in the offseason. They had to consistently grow together off the court. And they must consistently train at their highest level every day in the gym. Because when you compete in the nation's top volleyball conference, you enter the season knowing everyone is getting better and the margin of error is - consistently - slim to none.

"We've had consistent training going into our third year and the players now know what the expectations are," said Dingman. "They have a very clear understanding of what the coaches expect. They should understand what is expected of each other and it should be very clear what their role is on this team. All of these things are going to be very instrumental for us moving forward. For us to make the next big move, we have to play at a higher level every single day. We have to train and compete at a higher level."

Iowa's next big move would indeed be a big one. The Hawkeyes are aiming to end a 15-year NCAA postseason drought, and recent history indicates they're knocking on the door. In Dingman's first two seasons, Iowa enjoyed its most successful two-year stretch in nine seasons. The Hawkeyes collected five conference wins in 2009, which was enough for the sixth and final Big Ten team to receive an at-large bid to the NCAA Championships - an indication of the quality of competition that resides in the Big Ten Conference.

The support surrounding the program also continues to grow with each program victory. The Hawkeyes set record attendance figures in both 2008 and 2009, and in 2011 the team will move into a $43 million renovated facility that includes a practice gymnasium, expanded locker rooms and an 11,000 square foot strength training room. All of which bodes well for the future, but even more importantly, according to Dingman, is the approach the players take today if they want to reach their postseason potential.

"We need to train every day with the NCAA tournament on our minds. We've talked with the players about it and that's how they need to approach every day. We want to establish this program as a consistent member of the NCAA field. We want this team to be the first of many to consistently appear in the NCAA tournament. We want to be a consistent player in the Big Ten, and I think we are close. This program has reached the point where we help the Big Ten be the best conference in the country."

For the program to turn its NCAA goals into a postseason reality, Dingman is counting on each player to continue to buy into the team attitude and family atmosphere that began to emerge throughout the course of the off-season.

"We dedicated ourselves to being more of a team in every aspect of the word and it's truly unbelievable to see the transformation that has happened because we really committed to that philosophy this spring. That alone is going to help us. I don't know if it will win some matches, but it will help us score some points and keep us in matches. That's one thing that the group here this summer has continued to embrace and enjoy. They're more comfortable with each other and as a result they're more comfortable holding each other to a higher expectation. They can demand more of each other because we have a comfort level that we haven't had the last couple years."

This season's expectations will be driven by a group of 10 returning letterwinners and a recruiting class that received national recognition.

Fifth-year senior Becky Walters anchors the Hawkeye roster from her middle blocker position. One-hundred percent healthy for the first time in her collegiate career, Walters returns to the Iowa lineup after averaging a team-high 0.95 blocks per set in 2009. She enters her final season with a .224 all-time attack percentage, the 15th highest percentage in program history.

"This spring was the first time I've seen Becky healthy. She was dominating in every aspect. She's hitting the ball harder. She's more physical. She's really bought into listening to Ben's (Boldt) blocking techniques and as a result her blocking has improved drastically. Becky is going to be critical to our success."

Walters will be accompanied by returning starter Mallory Husz. A junior middle blocker, Husz appeared in 26 sets her sophomore season and improved each week, earning the starting nod for the final nine regular season contests. A natural leader, Husz has embraced her role as an upperclassman and has been instrumental in the Hawkeyes' improvement in every facet of the "team" concept.

"Mallory gives us the leadership this program desperately needs on and off the court. Mallory has embraced being a leader in the group and promoting her vision for this team. What Mallory brings to the court is she's really fast. She needs to beat people with her speed because she's undersized compared to most Big Ten middles."

Freshman Chante' Thompson is almost a hybrid of Iowa's returning middle blockers. She brings size and athleticism to the position and will provide depth to a very talented spot in the Hawkeye lineup.

"Chante brings us size," said Dingman. "She's a legit 6'4" athlete. She's long and she gets in there and she mixes it up. If we can get her training consistently I think she's going to have a very good freshman year."

A former middle blocker turned right-side hitter, sophomore Lauren Friedman put together a great spring to challenge returning starter Aimee Huffman in Iowa's rotation. Huffman, who was enjoying a phenomenal junior campaign before she was derailed by injury and missed the season's final six games, is expected to return to the Iowa lineup with a team-best 2.62 kills per set.

"Lauren had a great spring season and I think the competition on the right side is really going to be good. Lauren was our starting right-side player this spring because Aimee was rehabbing from injury, and because she played so well, it's almost like Aimee has to work hard to get that position back. The competition at that position will benefit our team."

Another Hawkeye returning from injury is redshirt junior Megan Eskew. After being sidelined in 2009 due to a knee ailment, Eskew has hit the gym with enthusiasm and a restructured bounce in her step.

"It's amazing to have Megan back in the gym. She brings intangibles that nobody else on our team has when it comes to being a competitor. She truly loves to play every day and I think her absence was really good for her and, thus, it's going to be really good for the team. It is so much fun having her back in the gym every day."

Pushing Eskew for playing time at the outside hitter position is junior Tiffany Nilges. Nilges began 2009 in a reserve role, but averaged over two kills per set while starting the season's final eight matches.

"Tiffany is critical to our team. She has the most experience among our returning outside hitters. She made big strides this spring and I think she's really embracing that role of being a go-to player. She's very good in the back row, so we're excited about what she brings defensively to the team. Tiff is going to have to play at a high level every day for us to succeed."

Sophomore Allison Straumann and newcomer Rachael Bedell will also compete for swings at the outside hitter position. Straumann saw playing time in the front row this spring after mostly spelling the Hawkeyes on defense a year ago.

"We can use Alli in a lot of different areas. She is going to be a great role player that is vital to any team's success. If we need someone to go in and serve, it's going to be Alli. If Alli doesn't start and someone needs a breather, we can count on Alli. She is so steady and that's where we saw her improve this spring. She became a much steadier competitor."

Bedell, one of three incoming freshmen from the Texas hotbed, will bring a new dynamic to the position. A middle blocker through most of her prep career, Bedell has the size and youthful enthusiasm to become a reliable outside threat.

"Rachel brings us size to the outside. The second part of her club season this past year was the first time she was really able to focus on just being an outside hitter. She's going to have a lot to learn, but we're going to accelerate her learning curve because she can help us on the floor. She brings size and a physical style to that position."

After appearing in 10 contests in 2009 and leading the Iowa offense throughout the spring, junior Paige Stevens enters 2010 as Iowa's first-team setter.

"Paige delivers a great ball and I think the hitters enjoy hitting off of Paige. She's a great student of the game. She likes to watch film and she likes to study scouting reports, so I'm really excited to see her grasp this starting opportunity."

Senior Becky Walters (10), junior Mallory Husz (3) and junior Paige Stevens (6).

Freshman setter Nikki Dailey will also get a shot at contributing to the Hawkeyes' effort on the court. A two-time all-state performer in Franklin, WI, Dailey can run the Iowa offense from the setter spot, but could also earn some playing time in the back court.

"Nikki is athletic and she's a pretty tough competitor. She's a freshman setter, which is the equivalent of being a freshman quarterback, so it's a really tough position to come into with high expectations. But that's what we need from Nikki. Whether Nikki is pushing Paige or whether Nikki is running our scrimmage side, she needs to play at a pretty high level fairly quickly. She is very athletic and she is going to find her way to the floor, whether it's setting or playing defense."

Senior Becky Walters

Iowa's defensive specialist position isn't loaded in quantity, but it's rich with quality. Senior Signe Mueller opened the 2009 season as the starting libero before spending much of the campaign rotating in as a defensive specialist. Sophomore Jordanne LeTourneau saw her playing time increase as the season progressed a year ago and freshman Bethany Yeager brings a competitive attitude that could compete for any spot on the floor, despite her 5-7 frame.

"The defensive specialists we have are pretty solid. Experience should give Signe the edge because she understands the level of play we expect more than anyone. That being said, I'm super excited about both Sig and Bethany. They can both help our team reach another level. Bethany is fiercely competitive. As much as any player we have, she loves to train. She trains to get better every single day. She's going to bring some fire to the team, that's for sure."

"Jordanne may be the best server on our team. If we're in a situation where we can win a set or win that match with one good serve, we could call Jordanne's number."

Dingman's third season is primed for potential. The returning players have bought into the team philosophy, the incoming freshmen are loaded with talent, and the returning staff embodies the consistency the Head Hawkeye continually stresses. Assistant Coach Jason Allen and Director of Operations Angie Boldt have been on Dingman's sideline since the coach arrived in 2008, and Assistant Coach Ben Boldt and Volunteer Assistant Curt Sivertsen return for their second season on the bench.

"Retaining my staff is a huge benefit. We know each other's strengths and weaknesses and I think we work incredibly well together. Because of our continuity, the team understands us much better than they ever have before. That's going to benefit us tremendously."

It's often perceived that the sequel is rarely as good as the original, but the second year of the Sharon Dingman era may be one of the exceptions. Iowa's head volleyball coach enjoyed a great deal of relative success in 2008, her first as head Hawkeye, so expectations were high as she entered her encore season in 2009.

Dingman and the Hawkeyes attacked those expectations head on. Iowa experienced record attendance, the best start in program history and a handful of individual milestones. The Hawkeyes captured five Big Ten wins to raise their two-year conference total to 11, the highest two-year stretch since 2000-01. In fact, prior to Dingman's arrival in 2008, the volleyball program amassed a combined 14 conference victories in the previous six seasons - the most dismal six-year stretch in program history. With that kind of relative success, it's fair to say that Dingman's two seasons have breathed life into a near lifeless program.

"I think it goes back to how we're measuring success in our program," said Dingman. "The way we want to develop this program is a measure of relative successes. We can't think the only way we're going to measure success is if we finish fourth in the Big Ten. We have to measure success against the history we're working with and against."

The history Iowa faced heading into 2009 was the reality that four, four-year starters had graduated and the second layer of the program's foundation would be in the hands of an inexperienced lineup that suddenly faced the expectation to win. Behind two seniors and four new starters, the Hawkeyes hit the floor as the aggressors, beginning with the season's opening serve. Dingman's squad became just the third team in program history to start the season 6-0, capturing two preseason tournament championships, the Loyola Invitational and the Green Bay Classic.

"That's something we can look back on as a really cool milestone that this team achieved for this program," said Dingman. "We wanted to put ourselves in a position in the preseason where we felt we could be successful, but we didn't want that success to come easily, because no success is easy in the Big Ten."

The Hawkeyes' efforts were rewarded at home with record attendance. Iowa averaged over 1,300 fans in 2009, the 30th best total in the country and nearly 200 more than last year's record-breaking attendance. Since Dingman's arrival in 2008, the Hawkeyes have posted four of the top five attendance figures in the program's 33-year history, including an all-time record of 2,802 Nov. 11, 2009.

"I think it goes back to people appreciating how our team plays volleyball," said Dingman. "Our team plays hard and our fans appreciate the effort. It's very nice to have a fan base and be a part of an athletic department that values hard work."

The Hawkeyes will lean on experience and hard work in 2010. Iowa returns seven seniors and 14 letterwinners to complement a celebrated 2010 recruiting class.

"What's important to next year's senior class is they have to decide what kind of legacy they want to leave on this program," said Dingman. "We have four freshmen coming in that can make an immediate impact, but only if they follow the example set by our upperclassmen. We watched the NCAA draw together as a team this season because that is where we want to be sitting every year. They've never been in that position before, but this senior class wants to be in that position next year. I know they're pretty fired up."

Perhaps equally important is the continuity of the Iowa coaching staff. The entire staff will join Dingman on the bench 2010, including assistant coaches Jason Allen and Ben Boldt and Director of Operations Angie Boldt.

"I am so blessed to come to work every day and work with those three," said Dingman. "They're all very diligent and incredibly professional about how they go about every single day. They are determined to lead Iowa to the NCAA tournament and I know we can do it."

IOWA VOLLEYBALL

About the Big Ten Network:

The Big Ten Network is on the air 24 hours per day, 365 days a year. The network annually televises more than 350 live events and streams an additional 300+ events. Each year's schedule is comprised of approximately 35-40 football games, 105 regular season men's basketball games, Big Ten Men's Basketball Tournament games, 55 women's basketball games, Big Ten Women's Basketball Tournament games, hundreds of additional Olympic sports events and dozens of Big Ten championship events.

Iowa will have three matches broadcast live on the Big Ten Network (HD) in 2010. Both matches against Minnesota (Oct. 6 and Oct. 27) and Iowa's Oct. 30 contest versus Northwestern will air on the BTN.

Every Big Ten Network football game telecast is surrounded by Big Ten Football Saturday, the network's pre-game, halftime and post-game show hosted by Dave Revsine and analysts Gerry DiNardo and Howard Griffith.

New for the 2010 season, the Big Ten Network will offer two hours of new programming every weeknight. In addition, the highly-anticipated series, Big Ten Icons, will debut on Saturday, Sept. 18, and will be hosted by broadcasting legend Keith Jackson. The 20-episode series will count down the top student-athletes in Big Ten history across all sports based on their collegiate careers. In all, the network will supplement its game coverage with a dozen football-themed shows each week.

The fall programming lineup will feature several new shows, highlighted by Big Ten Icons, Big Ten Film Vault and The Next Level. Returning programs will include Behind the Schemes, Big Ten's Best, Big Ten Breakdown, Big Ten Football & Beyond, Big Ten Tailgate and The Big Ten's Greatest Games.

HAWKEYE ALL ACCESS

hawkeyesports.com

Media and fans can obtain a wealth of up-to-date information about the Hawkeyes on the official web site of the University of Iowa -- hawkeyesports.com. Live stats, box scores, play-by-play, photo galleries, coach and bio information, videos, player blogs and more can be found on the web site.

Futhermore, hawkeyesports.com has a fresh look after the site was re-designed and re-launched September, 2008. The new and improved site has more information and video/audio for the diehard Hawkeye fan.

Hawkeye All-Access

Nearly all of Iowa's games can be heard live and archived over the internet via "Hawkeye All-Access" subscription service. "Hawkeye All-Access" gives fans a chance to listen to play-by-play action of the Hawkeye volleyball team if they can't attend a match live.

In addition, select Hawkeye volleyball matches can be heard on local radio stations like AM-800 KXIC and AM-1630 KCJJ, both located in Iowa City.

Mallory Husz (3) and the Hawkeyes will provide video blogs throughout the season on Hawkeye All-Access.

Head Coach Sharon Dingman addresses questions during a press conference at the team's annual Media Day, held at the beginning of the season.

The UI Department of Athletics is under the direction of Gary Barta and is regarded as one of the top intercollegiate programs in the nation. Once again, the Hawkeyes enjoyed success both athletically and academically in 2009-10.

Thirty-seven Hawkeyes earned all-conference accolades, while 15 were recognized as all-Americans. Hawkeye student-athletes excelled in the classroom, as well with 178 earning academic all-Big Ten laurels. The graduation rate of Iowa's student-athletes has improved in each of the past 10 years and has consistently ranked above the graduation rate of all UI students.

Paced by its men's cross country and field hockey teams -- each with perfect APR scores of 1,000 for the second straight year -- all 24 of Iowa's intercollegiate athletics programs achieved at a rate that surpasses the national benchmark established by the NCAA. Iowa's men's tennis, women's golf, women's tennis and volleyball all ranked in the upper 90 percent of its peers.

The support of their efforts and attendance by Hawkeye fans ranks among the best across the country.

While the Hawkeyes compete with the best in the nation in a variety of sports, Iowa boasts some of the most impressive athletic facilities in the nation, operated by one of the most respected departments.

Several new projects are underway on the Iowa campus. Some of the latest additions to the UI campus include the completion of the new Campus Recreation and Wellness Center, which houses the swimming and diving teams, and the state-of-the-art $7 rowing boathouse. In addition to the brand new swimming and rowing facilities, the Roy G. Karro Athletics Hall of Fame and Visitors Center, the Russell and Ann Gerdin Athletic Learning Center and the Hawkeye Tennis and Recreation Center completed construction in recent years. Furthermore, the UI is in the middle of a $47 million Carver-Hawkeye Arena renovation project that is expected to be completed the summer of 2011.

The 2010 Iowa Hawkeye wrestling team won its 23rd NCAA championship along with its 34th Big Ten title. Iowa crowned eight all-Americans en route to its third-straight national and league championships.

Kinnick Stadium received a major up-grading and renovation that was completed just prior to the 2006 season. The $89 million project included the replacing of the south end zone stands and building of a four-level press box that houses 47 guest suites. New scoreboards, video walls, concession stands and new rest rooms were also part of the project.

Iowa athletes have been recognized as all-Americans in their sport on 268 occasions during the past 18 years, including 15 this past season.

Head Coach Katie Dougherty, senior Merel Beelen, sophomore Sojna Molnar and assistant coach Mira Radu led the Hawkeyes to the NCAA Tournament in 2010.

IOWA VOLLEYBALL

The Iowa football team boasted an 11-2 record a year ago, was ranked as high as fourth nationally, and recorded a dominating 24-14 Orange Bowl victory over Georgia Tech.

During the 2009-10 athletic year, the Hawkeyes continued their trend of success on the playing fields and in academic pursuits. Below are some examples of recent Hawkeye success.

The Hawkeye wrestling team continued its dominance on the mat claiming its 23rd and third-straight NCAA national championship and its 34th and third-straight Big Ten title. Ten Hawkeyes earned all-American laurels en route to the team championship. Tom Brands was tabbed Big Ten Coach of the Year, while Matt McDonough was honored as the league's top freshman.

Iowa football continued its stellar play, winning 11 of its 13 games in 2009, and earned a national ranking as high as fourth. The year culminated with a dominating 24-14 performance over Georgia Tech in the Orange Bowl. The return trip to Miami marked Iowa's sixth January bowl game in eight years. Kirk Ferentz was named Big Ten Coach of the Year, while Bryan Bulaga was honored as the conference's Offensive Lineman of the Year.

Iowa's field hockey team has won the Big Ten Tournament championship three of the last four years and finished third nationally, advancing all the way to the Final Four in 2008. A total of 39 Hawkeyes have garnered all-Big Ten accolades under Head Coach Tracey Griesbaum.

The Hawkeye baseball team surged last season, winning 11 of its last 14 games to finish third in the Big Ten and earn runner-up honors in the conference tournament. Three Hawkeyes and two incoming recruits were drafted in the Major League Draft following the season.

The women's basketball team had another outstanding season, finishing third in the league, earning runner-up honors at the Big Ten Tournament and advancing to the NCAA Second Round. Lisa Bluder, who was named Big Ten Coach of the Year for the third time, coached Kachine Alexander to honorable mention all-America status and Jamie Printy to Big Ten Freshman of the Year laurels.

Under first-year Head Coach Katie Dougherty, the women's tennis team ascended in the national rankings to 18th and earned a NCAA Tournament berth. Also, Iowa's doubles team of Sonja Molnar and Merel Beelen ranked 14th nationally competed in the national tournament at the end of the year. Molnar was tabbed the Big Ten's Freshman of the Year.

Head Coach Mark Hankins continued to have his men's golfers play at a high level. The Hawkeyes finished second, only three strokes from first, at the Big Ten Championships and was a only one stroke from advancing to its second-straight NCAA Championships when it placed sixth at Regionals this past spring.

The aforementioned list of team and individual accomplishments are just a sampling of the recent excellence achieved in Iowa City.

Whether it's the top-notch athletic or academic performances, the outstanding community and fan support or the impressive facilities, it's easy to understand why Iowa fans everywhere truly believe, "It's great to be a Hawkeye."

Gary Barta
Director of Athletics

"Hope is not a strategy," is a common refrain of the University of Iowa's Gary Barta. So, as Barta enters his fifth year as the UI's director of intercollegiate athletics – and his 24th year in athletics administration – he does so diligently working a plan that contributed to historic success for the Iowa Hawkeyes in 2009-10 and is setting the stage for more of the same in the years ahead.

Competitively, two events stand alone at the top of the list of achievements by UI teams in 2009-10: Iowa's dominating victory over Georgia Tech in the 2010 FedEx Orange Bowl and yet another national championship for the UI wrestling program.

Barta and the UI Athletics Department also enjoyed historic success out of competition including, most notably, significant improvements to the facilities used by the more than 700 student-athletes who represent the UI in intercollegiate athletics competition.

In September 2009, the University of Iowa and the UI Athletics Department dedicated the $7 million P. Sue Beckwith, M.D. Boathouse, a 20,000-square-foot facility built right on the bank of the Iowa River off of Dubuque Street in Terrill Mill Park. It features a large ergonomics room that will house the team's rowing machines, four large boat bays, and a state-of-the-art rowing tank that features moving water at various training speeds, and locker room and medical training space.

The building also features a beautiful river view terrace and community room that can be used by University and community groups for gatherings. In addition to the UI Rowing team, the building houses the UI men's club rowing team and the Old Capitol Rowing Club, a community-based rowing organization administered by UI Recreational Services.

In November 2009, the UI broke ground on a multi-million dollar addition and renovation of Carver-Hawkeye Arena, the 28-year-old competitive home of the Hawkeye men's and women's basketball, wrestling and volleyball programs. The Carver-Hawkeye Arena Revitalization Project will greatly improve the practice, strength training, and conditioning facilities for a myriad of sports programs in addition to providing new office space for the vast majority of Iowa's administrative and coaching staffs in addition to new locker room and support facilities for Iowa's men's and women's basketball, wrestling and volleyball teams.

The project is on pace for completion in fall 2011 thanks in great measure to outstanding private support of the project by many friends and fans who will enjoy enhancements to the spectator area of the Arena including new court-side seating and club rooms that will be available pre-game and at halftime.

In fall 2010, Barta will join the campus community in celebrating the opening of the $69 million Campus Wellness and Recreation Center. The facility will provide unparalleled recreational opportunity for UI students, faculty and staff, and the greater Iowa City community in addition to being the new full-time home of the UI's men's and women's swimming and diving programs.

While Iowa continues to move the facilities it makes available to student-athletes forward, the UI's commitment to the academic piece of the student-athlete experience remains paramount – and successful.

According to information released annually by the NCAA, the graduation rate for student-athletes who enrolled at the University of Iowa in the fall of the 2002-03 academic year was 70 percent, six percentage points better than the national average and two points better than a year ago. The graduation rate for UI student-athletes was also four percentage points better than the rate for all UI students.

The football program at the UI – with a Graduation Success Rate of 74 – ranked second only to Cincinnati among the ten teams invited to participate in the five 2010 Bowl Championship Series events. Iowa also ranked third among the seven bowl-bound Big Ten Conference teams.

The UI's field hockey, softball and men's cross country teams were among the NCAA Division I intercollegiate athletics programs singled out by the NCAA for Academic Progress Reports (APR) in the top 10 percent of all teams in their specific sport. In fact, for the second straight year all 24 of Iowa's teams exceeded the NCAA's APR benchmark and compared favorably to their peers in the Big Ten and nationally.

Barta's involvement in the UI campus community extends well beyond intercollegiate athletics. He is a member of the cabinet comprised of vice presidents and other campus leaders that provides counsel to UI President Sally Mason. That group was instrumental in the UI's inspiring response to the record-setting flooding that besieged the campus and the Iowa City and Coralville community in June 2008.

Barta also represents the UI and the Hawkeyes at the conference and national level as well. During his first four years at the UI, he has participated in the creation and implementation of the Big Ten Network, the expansion of the Big Ten Conference and realignment of athletics conferences nationally, and the Big Ten's post-season bowl game agreements that go into effect this college football season.

Nationally, Barta remains active in the Division IA Athletics Directors Association, the National Association of College Directors of Athletics, and currently serves on the NCAA Football Committee Board of Directors.

Barta has another favorite saying: "Vision without resources is irrelevant." Over the course of his career he has been directly involved in raising hundreds of millions of dollars in support of intercollegiate athletics. This has remained a primary focus during his tenure at Iowa where private support for the Hawkeyes continues to flourish despite a challenging economy.

In recent years, the department has received a long list of commitments to assist in capital projects and scholarship support, including gifts of $5 million each from long-time friends of the UI Dale and Marilyn Howard, Bruce Rastetter and Richard O. Jacobson.

Under Barta's leadership – and thanks to a talented athletics development staff – the University of Iowa has seen year-over-year improvement in annual giving in spite of the current difficult economic environment and, at the same time, has generated almost $20 million of support for the Carver-Hawkeye Arena project.

As the director of athletics at the University of Wyoming for three years, seven different UW coaches were named Mountain West Conference Coach of the Year. He also spearheaded a fund-raising effort that netted the Cowboy athletics program $11 million in private support and $11 million in matching state fund.

As the senior associate athletics director at the University of Washington, he directed the "Campaign for the Student-Athlete," was a participant in the design, construction and/or renovation of several UW athletics facilities including Bank of America Arena and the Dempsey Indoor Practice Facility. In addition to almost doubling the amount of annual private support received by UW, Barta also managed the department's external affairs division, a task that included corporate sponsorship and radio contracts.

His responsibilities at Washington expanded over time to include hiring of coaching and administrative staff and coordinating the schedule for the Huskies' men's basketball program.

The roots of his development experience extend to his first two positions: director of athletics development and external relations at the University of Northern Iowa and director of development at his alma mater, North Dakota State University.

Barta earned a Bachelor of Science degree in mass communication and broadcast journalism from NDSU in 1987. He was an option quarterback for Bison football squads that won the Division II NCAA national championship in 1983, 1985 and 1986.

Barta, and his wife, Connie, have a son, Luke (12) and a daughter, Madison (10). He was born September 4, 1963, in Minneapolis, Minn.

IOWA VOLLEYBALL

An Exceptional Choice

Since 1847, The University of Iowa has distinguished itself as a leader among public universities. Today its programs in health, business, engineering, education, law, the arts, communications, and the sciences are known worldwide for their excellence and innovation.

Outstanding Academic Opportunities

Iowa offers degrees in 11 colleges: Business, Dentistry, Education, Engineering, Law, Liberal Arts and Sciences, Medicine, Nursing, Pharmacy, Public Health, and the Graduate College. Undergraduates can choose from more than 100 areas of study.

A Fun Place to Call Home

Iowa City is a classic university town where learning and creating truly matter. The city blends the vibrant University campus and the natural beauty of the Iowa River with nearby shopping, entertainment, and residential areas.

Commanding Resources

The University operates one of the largest research library systems in the country. Iowa equips its classrooms and laboratories with the latest in computer technology. Students benefit from this technology-rich environment coupled with the high personal attention of University faculty and staff. Visit the University's web site at www.uiowa.edu to about its multifaceted education, research and service programs.

More Than a Taste of the Arts

Although temporarily displaced from their buildings by a summer 2008 flood, Hancher Auditorium and the UI Museum of Art continue to offer performances, exhibits and special events in alternate venues. Premier works of art are displayed in most University buildings and plazas throughout campus. Students may participate in theater, music, and dance groups.

Time and Space to Play

Every year about 90 percent of Iowa's students make use of the University's recreational facilities. Each season offers a full schedule of intramural and club sports, ranging from rugby, tennis, and golf to volleyball, soccer, and swimming. Individual workouts are a part of many students' daily routines. Students also make use of campus walking and running trails, bikeways, ski trails, golf courses, and canoe and sailboat rentals to relax and enjoy leisure time.

What Distinguishes an Iowa Education?

Success. Iowa's philosophy is that if students meet the entrance requirements, the University is going to do everything it can to help students to graduate. An Iowa degree spells success in the job market, giving students the skills to continue learning and growing throughout their careers.

Excellence. The faculty is stellar. Students are amazed not only at how much they know but at how enthused they are about sharing that knowledge and getting students excited about their subject.

Comfortable class sizes

Here are average class sizes for some typical first-year courses:

Biology: 600 in lecture, 24 in lab; Rhetoric: 22 in class; Calculus: 25 in class; Western Civilization: 260 in lecture, 22 in discussion group;

German: 15 in class; First-year seminar: 13 in class

U.S. News & World Report ranked The University of Iowa as the 26th best public university in the nation in 2009.

Consider Iowa's Advantages

- According to the Fiske Guide to Colleges, the University of Iowa is a "Best Buy" for an outstanding, affordable education.
- Iowa celebrates diversity—the University attracts students from 100 countries and all 50 U.S. states.
- Iowa's students and faculty have an enthusiasm for learning and for having fun.
- Iowa is part of the Big Ten Conference, sharing academic and athletic traditions among a group of America's leading universities.
- Iowa's faculty members not only offer a full range of academic offerings for students, they actively engage in innovative research projects within their specialty areas.
- Students can easily travel a half day by car to a number of large American cities, including Chicago, Minneapolis/St. Paul, Kansas City, St. Louis, and Omaha.
- Iowa City holds a cosmopolitan charm all its own as a gathering place for the world's writers, for world-renowned artists, and for noted visiting lecturers.
- The University's 400+ student organizations include fraternities, sororities, and many professional and cultural societies.
- The University's career and placement services match students with companies for internships and other professional experiences throughout their education.
- The University's graduates excel in their careers, often holding leadership positions within their professions and communities.

IOWA VOLLEYBALL

The Colleges

Most freshmen who enroll at The University of Iowa are admitted to either the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences or the College of Engineering. The General Education Program allows students to sample courses in more than 100 areas of study. At Iowa, students are required to take electives, major courses, and general education course work.

Liberal Arts & Sciences

Undergraduate Degrees Offered - Bachelor of Arts (BA) and Science (BS) in 58 major fields; Bachelor of Fine Arts (BFA) in Music (BM) and of Liberal Studies (BLS). Admission - Freshmen and transfer students are to meet the college's admissions requirements.

Engineering

Undergraduate Degrees Offered - Bachelor of Science in Engineering (BSE) in six majors- biomedical, chemical, civil, electrical, industrial, and mechanical engineering. Admission - Students must meet the college's high admissions requirements.

Business

Undergraduate Degrees Offered - Bachelor of Business Administration (BBA) in six majors: accounting, economics, finance, management, management information systems, and marketing. Admission - Usually requires two years of pre-business study in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. Details at www.biz.uiowa.edu/upo/admissions/

Education

Teacher Education Programs - Elementary Education, Art Education, English Education, Foreign Language Education, Mathematics Education, Music Education, Science Education, and Social Studies Education. Additional teaching minors in Coaching, ESL (English as a Second Language), Hearing Impaired, Journalism, and Talented and Gifted. Admission - Review all admission requirements and program guides at www.education.uiowa.edu/tess/

Nursing

Undergraduate Degrees Offered: Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN).

Admission: Students typically complete one year of pre-requisite courses in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and apply for admission during the second semester of the first year. The College of Nursing has competitive admission. The BSN requires three years of study once the student earns admission.

Pharmacy

Professional Degree Offered - Doctor of Pharmacy (PharmD).

Admission - Students must successfully complete required pre-pharmacy course work in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. These requirements may be met in two years but do not guarantee admission. Students must also complete the Pharmacy College Admission Test (PCAT).

Graduate and Professional Degrees

Many student-athletes who have attended The University of Iowa and completed their undergraduate degrees continue their education at the University. Student-athletes who attend graduate or professional school must first complete course work toward a bachelor's degree in their field of study. The University also offers undergraduates the opportunity to participate in research and overseas study programs, as well as internships that will help prepare them for graduate school.

The Tippie School of Management's MBA program was recently ranked 20th best in the country by Forbes magazine.

IOWA VOLLEYBALL

Housing

Each athletics team has its own rules regarding residence of incoming freshmen. Across the University, about 90 percent of freshmen choose to live on campus in one of the 10 residence halls. Most student-athletes live at least two years on campus.

The residence halls have full-service dining rooms, study lounges, laundry facilities, recreational facilities, vending, and bank machines. Each room has high-speed computer connections for e-mail and Internet access, plus there are wireless networking hot spots in a variety of locations across campus. Iowa also offers wireless networking in 52 buildings and several outdoor areas, providing more than 265 access points across campus.

Safety

- 11:55 p.m. - 2:10 a.m.: Free SafeRide buses take students home Fridays and Saturdays during the fall and spring semesters.
- Special telephones with blue lights are stationed across campus with a direct link to the UI Department of Public Safety.
- University of Iowa Police personnel educate students on safety during summer orientation.
- The Rape Victim Advocacy Program cooperates with the UI Department of Public Safety and participates in Sexual Crime Awareness Week.

Cambus

There are six primary bus routes throughout the Iowa campus. The University Cambus provides over three million free rides to class and to the dorms for students each year. Some routes run seven days a week, and some run until 2:30 a.m. Cambus also operates a specialized transportation service for persons with disabilities.

Health Services

The University of Iowa provides the student-athlete with the most up-to-date and highest-quality medical care available. Students at Iowa can go to Student Health Service, which is open Monday through Friday. The service is supported by a fee paid by all full-time students. It offers students unlimited free office visits (there is a charge for other procedures done in the office, such as blood tests).

Libraries

The University of Iowa Libraries supports the academic achievement of all student-athletes with specialized courses, one-on-one consultations with librarians, 24/7 access to electronic resources through the web site (www.lib.uiowa.edu), and extended hours, which can accommodate complicated practice and travel schedules. UI Librarians help students find answers, whether they're on a web site, in a book, journal, government document, or database. Librarians also plan and teach students how to find, evaluate, and use information from a variety of sources--skills they will use throughout their lives.

Career Planning

Finding and pursuing a career takes careful planning. The Pomerantz Career Center is extremely valuable for student-athletes and can help identify skills that transfer from athletics to the workplace. The program suggests a timeline each student-athlete may follow throughout his or her stay at Iowa. The components of the program include:

- Individualized career advising
- Career education programs
- Summer job/internship opportunities
- Resume and cover letter development
- Preparing for life after college athletics

Computers

There are 26 Instructional Technology Centers all over the campus which are filled with 1,200 computers. These facilities are open at least 50 hours a week. Some are open 24 hours. Also, the Information Arcade in the Main Library provides a variety of specialized computing tools. The Computer Demo Center provides information for students who want to purchase computers and software.

Skills Labs & Support

Many academic departments offer skills labs to help students improve skills necessary to succeed at Iowa, such as writing, speaking, math, science, and foreign language. Assistance with skills such as note-taking, time-management, and test-taking are available through resources such as the College Transition Seminar (a credit-bearing course offered through University College), University Counseling Services, and Athletic Student Services staff.

Cultural Centers

Four cultural centers on campus provide a welcoming setting where students from various cultures can find cultural, academic, and personal support services: the Latino and Native American Cultural Center, the Afro American Cultural Center, the Asian Pacific American Cultural Center, and the Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender Resource and Education Center.

IOWA VOLLEYBALL

Iowa City is a diverse, highly cosmopolitan community of 60,000 set in the natural scenic beauty of Iowa's rolling hills and woods along the tree-lined banks of the Iowa River. Iowa City has all the art galleries, ethnic foods, historic architecture and vibrant atmosphere of a much larger city, but with the compactness and friendly feeling of a small town.

As a place to live, Iowa City keeps winning awards and accolades - Named one of the 10 most enlightened towns in the country by Utne Reader, listed in the book The 100 Best Small Art Towns in America and selected the number-one place to live in the nation by Editor & Publisher magazine.

Economically, businesses such as Rockwell Collins, American College Testing and Procter & Gamble help keep the city booming. In Coralville, a branch office of Geico Auto Insurance has provided many residents with employment opportunities.

Culturally, Iowa City is alive with concerts, art exhibits, readings, plays and art events of all kinds. Located on the University of Iowa campus, Hancher Auditorium is a nationally-known performance center that brings in the best of Broadway, classical and jazz music, dance and other performances. The University of Iowa Theatre Arts department also produces a full schedule of plays each year, featuring the work of student performers and directors. So whether you enjoy the arts as a spectator or as an outlet for your own creativity, Iowa City has the opportunities.

Residents of Iowa City are not only economically and culturally enriched, they also take advantage of the numerous recreational facilities offered around town. The area's more than 30 parks provide opportunities for year-round activities including boating, hiking, swimming, fishing and skiing.

The city's greatest charm, however, remains the sincere friendliness of its citizens, the cosmopolitan atmosphere and the successful partnership built between the community and the University.

Old Capitol

One of the most recognizable sites in Iowa City is the gold dome of the Old Capitol which is situated in the heart of downtown. Built in 1840, it is Iowa City's most historic building. The Old Capitol was the site of the first governor inauguration as well as the first six Iowa General Assemblies. It is also where the state's Constitution was drafted. When the capital was moved to Des Moines in 1857, the Old Capitol was dedicated to The University of Iowa, becoming the first building owned by the University.

Coralville Lake

Just north of Iowa City is Coralville Lake, an outdoor recreational area that offers a variety of opportunities for the public. Coralville Lake offers picnic shelters, biking, hiking, fishing, boating, swimming, hunting, camping, snowmobiling, cross country skiing, golf and disc golf.

City Plaza

Located downtown and in walking distance of many of the University's dormitories is the City Plaza. It is a perfect place to sit outside and study or hang out with friends. During the fall, spring and summer months there are concerts and art festivals in the "Ped" Mall.

Coral Ridge Mall

The Coral Ridge Mall is a 1.2-million-square-foot shopping center located just minutes from campus. The center combines a mix of over 120 specialty shops and strong department stores including Dillards, JC Penney, Sears, Target and Younkers. Coral Ridge also offers entertainment features such as an NHL-regulation-sized indoor ice arena, state-of-the-art 10-screen movie theatre and a large carousel along with a 1,000-seat food court with sit-down restaurants. Specialty stores include Abercrombie & Fitch, Barnes & Noble, Gap, Old Navy, Scheels All Sports and Pier 1 Imports.

Iowa City is located in eastern Iowa and is an easy trip to such cities as Des Moines (the capital of Iowa), Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, and Minneapolis. Also, Cedar Rapids, a city of more than 150,000, is just a short drive north of Iowa City. The Eastern Iowa Airport, which links residents to every major airport in the Midwest, nation and world, is only 20 minutes away.

The Hawkeye Nickname

The University of Iowa borrowed its athletic nickname from the state of Iowa many years ago. The name Hawkeye was originally the name of the hero in the fictional novel, The Last of the Mohicans, written by James Fenimore Cooper. Cooper had the Delaware Indians bestow the name on a white scout who lived with them.

In 1838, 12 years after the book was published, people in the territory of Iowa acquired the nickname, chiefly through the efforts of Judge David Rorer of Burlington and James Edwards of Fort Madison.

Edwards, editor of the Fort Madison Patriot, moved his paper to Burlington in 1843 and renamed it the Burlington Hawkeye. The two men continued their campaign to popularize the name, and territorial officials eventually gave it their formal approval.

Herky The Hawkeye

The Hawkeye nickname gained a tangible symbol in 1948 when a cartoon character, later to be named Herky the Hawkeye was hatched. The creator was Richard Spencer III, instructor of journalism at Iowa.

The impish Hawk was an immediate hit and acquired a name through a statewide contest staged by the athletic department. John Franklin, a Belle Plaine alumnus, was the man who suggested Herky.

Since his birth more than 45 years ago, Herky has symbolized Iowa athletics and epitomized University life. He even donned a military uniform during the Korean War and became the insignia of the 124th Fighter Squadron.

During the mid-1950s, Herky came to life at a football game as the Iowa mascot. Since that time, Herky has been a familiar figure at Iowa athletics events.

School Colors

For 40 years Iowa was without school colors, but in 1887 a group of 50 seniors met on the steps of the Old Capitol to decide what are now the school official colors. They chose Old Gold, the color of Iowa's vast corn fields and Black, the color of the rich soil.

School Fight Song

The Iowa Fight Song was written in 1950 by Mason City, Iowa, native Meredith Willson. Best known as the creator of Broadway's "The Music Man," Willson was awarded a 1963 University of Iowa Alumni Association Distinguished Service Award for "setting the spirit of Iowa to music." The lively cheer is sung hundreds of times during Iowa athletics events the year around.

The word is Fight, Fight, Fight for IOWA
Let every loyal Iowan sing;
The word is Fight, Fight, Fight for IOWA
Until the walls and rafters ring (Go Hawks!)
Come on and cheer, cheer, cheer for IOWA
Come on and cheer until you hear the final gun.
The word is Fight, Fight, Fight for IOWA
Until the game is won.
